Hills of Snow Hydrangea
Blooms All Summer

THIS NEW AMERICAN HYDRANGEA is one of the most beautiful hardy flowering shrubs ever introduced. It blooms from early in June until toward autumn frosts. The breadth of the shrub is practically the same as the height, being from four to five feet. It bears large, semi-circular trusses of beautifully formed flowers of dazzling whiteness. Succeeds well in any average good soil. Does well either in sunny or partly shaded locations.

The Hills of Snow Hydrangea is very attractive when planted as a hedge along driveways, or along property lines. Its blooming period extends throughout the summer and makes it one of the most showy flowering shrubs obtainable. Strong, well-rooted stocks, ready for prompt shipment:

Feather Tree [Tamarix Hispida]

THE BOTANICAL NAME of this handsome tree-like shrub is Tamarix Hispida. It is sometimes called Feather Tree because of its long plume-like branches of beautiful green.

The bush is not only beautiful with its ostrich-like foliage, but is covered almost all summer with beautiful flowers of light pink. The color is what our high school girls call Periwinkle.

We have some very choice stocks of Feather Tree (Tamarix Hispida) ready for immediate delivery.
